

“This is a cat world, alien eyes, purring love and sharp claws.
akkamiau is full of arrhythmical motion, warping melodies in space, crying alone in echos, dreaming most of the time.
Playing along with life, soft paws on the path.”

akkamiau /Female Pressure/is an audiovisual artist and performer, playing live electronic experimental music for over seven years. Her music is best described as the constant expression of an authentic personal state of being, while identifying with an alien space cats nation.
